

If Willing to Support Game Warren District May Have Good Football

A vigorous and concerted effort is now being made to place the great autumn game of football on a successful basis for the current fall season in the Warren District. Manager Gallagher, the man really promoting the movement, is being assisted by aggressive and persistent endeavors on the part of a group of clean-cut young former school and college footballers who are willing to sacrifice time and strength to the end that Warren District may enjoy some typical gridiron sport during the next few months. If Warren District sport followers are willing to back clean, wholesome, honest sport, now is the time for them to demonstrate such readiness by earnest and spontaneous cooperation. It will take co-operation to make the sport go and even the most united and aggressive efforts of those actively engaged in the management and playing of the game cannot put football on a self-supporting basis, unless the sport-loving citizens are willing to do their share. It requires no small measure of self-sacrifice for the young men employed in the mines to devote many hours each week to further physical effort in the playing of the American college game. Several new candidates were out at Warren field yesterday forenoon, among them being Frank Thompson, of Don Luis, former soccer star, and Monahan, who played the college game in California. In an effort to secure funds necessary to the maintenance and advancement of the sport, the promoters will hold a dance, Saturday evening, Oct. 9, in Knights of Columbus Hall.

SHOULD SUPPORT FOOTBALL
Warren District lovers of sport should rally to the support of the game of football, as played along the lines of American college rules, which has been inaugurated for the autumn season under the direction of Manager Gallagher, who will present a strong lineup composed of some of the former star players of schools and colleges in widely separated sections of the U. S. A. Some fine games are assured but it will require the whole-hearted support of the community if the sport is to be maintained on a self-supporting basis.

GIBBONS-MCFARLAND RECEIPTS

Official returns made to the New York State Boxing Commission by the promoters of the Gibbons-McFarland boxing contest credit 26,092 persons with paying admission to the arena to witness the bout. The gross receipts were given as $28,069, an average of a trifle more than two dollars each. While the attendance figures are undoubtedly the largest for a bout of this type the receipts fall considerably below the amount taken in at several championship battles.

The Johnson-Jeffries bout set a record in this respect when more than $270,000 was collected at the gates and New York fight fans have contributed amounts in excess of $50,000 on one occasion at least for the Jeffries-Sharkey battle, brought more than $60,000 to the promoters. Gans and Nelson fighting at Goldfield, Nev., attracted a $69,000 gate and Corbett and Jeffries drew $43,000 at San Francisco. The receipts of the Gibbons-McFarland bout stand as a record, however, when it is considered that no title was at stake and the boxers met at an odd weight in a no-decision contest of but ten rounds.

EXTRA INNING GAMES.

August was a month of extra, inning baseball games. The Chicago White Sox established a record of eighty-nine innings in eight games, in three of which the Washington Club figured as opponents. Evidently proved that they should be used for such record making purposes by the Chicago American Leaguers the Washington players proceeded to go the White Sox one better by continuing the extra season games at St. Louis and New York until they had amassed a record of 102 innings in nine games.

IMPORTANT EARLY FOOTBALL.

The coming Saturday will witness several football games in the east with possibilities of upsets. Princeton will play Rutgers and coach Rush of the Tigers and coach Sanford of Rutgers both realize that the game is hardly the early season training contest usually scheduled for the first week of October. Yale will have the University of Virginia as an opponent and the southerners with the memory of that 21 to 0 defeat of a year ago hope to slip over something in the way of a surprise despite the fact that Yale this season appears to be much stronger than in 1914. Georgetown, with an unusually heavy eleven, is expected to give the Middles plenty of opposition at Annapolis.

HE HOPES TO LEAD TIGERS TO VICTORY

Captain Glick.

The football spirit of 1911 has been revived at Princeton this fall and Captain Glick hopes to lead the Tigers to the 1915 championship. Many of last year's players are on hand to help Princeton win this fall.

FANS SHOULD TURN OUT IN FORCE TO SEE TODAY'S GAME

One of the closing games of the 1915 season will be played this afternoon when the Boosters and Grays clash again at Warren Park. A special appeal is made to the fans of the Warren District to turn out in force and give the players a tangible demonstration of appreciation for efforts which have given local lovers of the national game a weekly chance to see their favorite pastime during the past several months.

All the fans know what may be expected when the Boosters and Grays clash—surely nothing short of a game in which every player is striving his utmost to win. The contests between the two local rivals have consistently attracted a much greater show of interest than the games with outside teams.

Somehow or other, there seems to be some particular incentive to win which actuates every player of both teams, whenever the Grays and Boosters come together.

There is no reason in the world why, with clear skies, there should be a record crowd at Warren Park today. There's but little time left to show appreciation of the players' and managers' efforts. Aside from being moved by a natural desire to see a hotly contested game, the fans should be anxious to take advantage of one of the last opportunities of showing that they appreciate unselfish efforts to provide good sport.

AFTERNOON SUIT

A distinctly dressy afternoon suit of black satin and velvet is the model shown here. The coat is particularly striking and distinctive. It is cut away in front, fitted with a circular back and is bound by bands of velvet at the edges. It is fastened with one button at the waistline and three buttons at the neck to give the coat a high neck effect. The sleeves are loose fitting. The skirt of the model is box pleated and at the bottom it is bound with 4-inch bands of velvet.

Minnesota and Illinois Are Liked By Western Conference Dopesters

"It's a long way to Tipperary" and likewise a long, long way to the close of the football season just before Thanksgiving but this doesn't hinder the dopesters from doing out their dope as usual. Just now the wise ones are busy figuring the chances of the eleven which will compete for the 1915 Western Conference Championship.

Illinois and Minnesota are picked as the logical favorites, although there is the chance that Coach Stagg may pull something hot on the cards at Chicago. Wisconsin which has gradually lost ground during the past few years seem entirely out of consideration, while Iowa's pretensions are problematical on account of the fact that this university schedules but three championship games while four are required to qualify. However, the Iowa enthusiasts are already talking in championship tones. Northwest-ern looks more promising than in years and Indiana is expected to do better under the second year of tutelage under Coach C. C. Childs. In its class Purdue may do creditably, but Ohio State will show a falling off from last season on account of the loss of its most brilliant players.

Minnesota appears to have a shade the better of the argument when the two favorites are considered, this notwithstanding Illinois' championship of a year ago and the return of her two stars, Pogue and Clark. A comparison of the two coaches seems to be the real test, so far as one can figure at this time. Dr. Williams at Minnesota is famous for consistent and conservative football, his teams running through game after game with wonderful regularity of form and playing exposition. Coach Zuppke of Illinois tends towards a dependency on individual brilliancy, as evinced last fall in the work of Pogue and Clark who were constantly pulling the Illinois out of holes. Both Illinois and Minnesota are rich in splendid material.

Current Sportdom

—By HEK—

Pat Moran, Quaker chief, is one person who does not think that the figures 23 should be classed along with 12 and other supposed hoodoo symbols. Moran has used 23 players during the entire season which also deals an awful jolt to the theory that a whole army of athletes is essential to the winning of a baseball pennant.

Jack Coombs, one of the Superbas' most effective hurlers during the past season, as well as one of the most notable come-back examples in baseball, has turned down an offer of a three-year contract to coach the Yale baseball team. Coombs rejected the proposition after a conference with President Ebbets of the Brooklyn team.

Again has Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Federals, declined to risk his reputation by accepting the pennant chances of his club by absenting himself from the sport. Tinker refused to go under the knife, although his physicians declare that an immediate surgical operation is necessary.

Harvard will play its first football game of the season Saturday when the eleven from Calby College will oppose the Crimson. The game should prove a severe test for the Cambridge team, as the Maine college has number several of the most capable veterans of the eleven which handily copped the 1914 championship of the Pine Tree State.

Boston scribes are not slow in expressing their disapproval of the recent unimportantlike attitude on the part of a certain rowdy element which is more or less in evidence at all ball parks. The shameful attitude adopted by some of the crowd in the recent Detroit series which, by the way, was anything but typical of real Boston fandom, has received the severe censure from the press which it so richly deserved.

Some interesting games of American college football are booked for the present season of gridiron sport at Warren Park. The Bisbee high school boys will be in action in most of the games, which will include contests with representatives of the different mine shafts, as well as outside educational institutions. Among the miners are some former star players and it is understood, several of these have signified their intention of once more donning the moleskins.

The Red Sox seem to be the predominant favorites among Warren District students of the national pastime, although it's a bit hard to understand just why the Hub baseballers should be deemed so unquestionably ahead of the leaders of the other leagues. Both the Phillies and Red Sox have been going like the wind of late and to one on the outside it appears as if the problem of picking the winner might be a hard one for the closest followers of the records of both nines. If the present interest is maintained there should be considerable betting among residents of the District who are willing to occasionally back their opinions with their currency. Whether or not those who like the Bostonians think enough of their judgement to offer odds becoming to their confidence is another question.

Providing present well-formulated plans do not go awry, our English brothers will have their innings during the fall and winter. The cricketers have organized and all that remains to make the plan a reality is the actual field practice and development of the team organizations. Among the many former British subjects in the Warren District, undoubtedly there are many who were skilled in the favorite English game.

"They never come back" is a pet theory of some followers of the fortunes of dethroned athletic champions and hence is the query many are propounding relative to the return chances of the great Maurice McLaughlin, whose title recently was wrested by his own townsmen. Should the national tennis tourney be held in California in the near future, of which some talk has been made, there are those who believe the climatic conditions would give McLaughlin the necessary advantage to carry him through with all his old time vigor. It's an interesting question and like most others will be answered by Time alone.

with much greater velocity. Owing to the speed and break of the ball it is said that this delivery endangers the batter to an extent that makes it imperative that the pitchers be prohibited from using it.

Small Tires Made Bigger

Goodyears Enlarged 20 Per Cent

Cost $317,000

Nearly half the cars running use small-size tires—sizes 30x3 1/2 and 30x3. So this year we are offering some special extras to the million small-tire users.

We have added size, so the air capacity is increased 20 per cent. That means much added mileage.

We have added 30 per cent to the rubber in the side walls. That's where constant flexing breaks a thin-walled tire—just above the bead.

We have added endurance in a newly-found way by changing the tire's design.

These three new extras on this year's small-tire output will cost us $317,000. And this in the face of a big price reduction.

They are giving to Goodyears a vastly greater capacity than any other tires in these sizes.

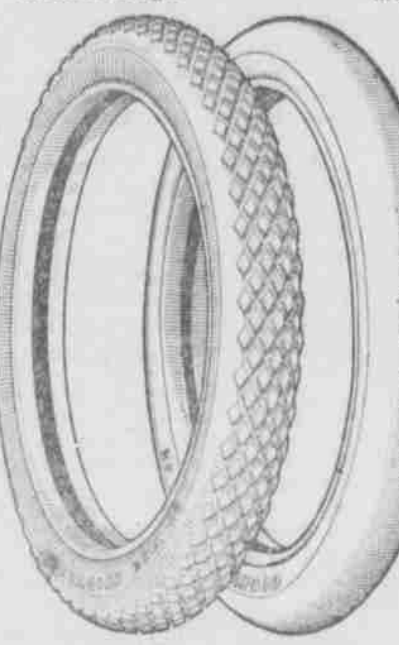

Remember that Goodyears have for years held top place in Treadon. By their super-quality they have won more users than any other tire that's built.

Even the 30x3 size is a four-ply tire in Goodyears. And our All-Weather tread on every size is made double-thick.

Now we add in this big way to the capacity. And we combat the risk of side-wall breaks by 30 per cent more rubber.

Don't take smaller tires or lighter, or tires with thinner treads.

And don't in any size accept a three-ply tire. Until others give what we give, get the Goodyear tire.

PIERCY TO YANKEES?

Bill Piercy, of the Los Angeles Club, drafted by the Yankees, has not yet decided as to whether he will sign the contract offered him by the New York club. Piercy said last night, however, that he will probably attach his name to the document.

"There is nothing in the talk that I want Major to cut the draft money with me," said Piercy. "The only thing that has prevented me from signing already is that I am not sure whether I would rather play ball in the east than out here."

LOW PERCENTAGE WINS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Regardless of the actual outcome of the National League race it appears to be an almost mathematical certainty that the winner of the 1915 pennant in the senior organization will finish the season with a percentage of less than .600. Assuming that such will be the case it will be the first time in the history of the league that the flag has been won with such low percentage. Not since the league was formed in 1876 has the winner in any one year fallen below the .600 mark and the average for the 29 years is .681. The Chicago team of 1890 holds the record with .798 while Brooklyn's victory in 1909 with .692 is the lowest to date. The complete record of the pennant winners in the National League from 1876 to 1914 is as follows:

Club	Pennants	High	Low	Grand Average
Chicago	10	.798	.643	.699
Boston	8	.795	.614	.671
New York	7	.692	.641	.666
Pittsburgh	4	.741	.647	.690
Brooklyn	2	.642	.603	.621
Baltimore	2	.688	.669	.678
Philadelphia	2	.720	.702	.712
Detroit	1	.637	.637	.637

GEERS FINANCIAL CHAMPION

Recently compiled records show that Pop Geers, the veteran Grand Circuit driver, has won more than one million dollars in purses since he began to handle the reins back in 1890. His best season was in 1902, when he totalled $116,270. Ty Cobb, Packy McFarland and other financial stars of sport will have to keep going at top speed if they hope to equal the record made by the wizard of the reins.
